To Whom it may concern,

I am writing to offer my enthusiastic recommendation for Michael Hingson as a speaker and thought leader. Michael recently delivered a general session address at our Luminate convention, where he captivated our audience with his compelling narrative on building trust and teamwork. His personal experience as a blind man working alongside his guide dog is both inspiring and insightful, offering valuable lessons applicable to any team or organization.

Michael's ability to connect with his audience is remarkable. His storytelling is not only engaging but also deeply thought-provoking, leaving a lasting impact on everyone who hears him speak. Michael's approach to trust and teamwork, drawn from his own life experiences, is authentic and relatable, making his message resonate with diverse audiences. Upon delivering his presentation, Michael's session lasted another 15 to 20 minutes as a crowd of people gathered to purchase an autographed copy of his book to take back to their teams for training and in-depth discussion.

In addition to his impressive speaking skills, Michael's professionalism and genuine kindness set him apart. He was a pleasure to work with, responding promptly throughout the booking process so that we could get all the logistics of his presentation squared away.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

All my best,
